

HOUSE & GARDEN

MAY 2016 | £4.20

IN THE DETAIL

PERFECT POTS AND PLANTERS

WILD NEW WALLPAPERS

PRETTY JUGS AND PLATES

SPEEDY SUPPERS

Fresh and fuss-free food

SENSATIONAL TRANSFORMATIONS

HOUSES DESIGNED TO FULFIL THEIR POTENTIAL

NOTEBOOK

Rosemary Brooke pencils in her highlights of the month, from Spain to a right royal new address

A royal residence

All eyes will be on Buckingham Palace this May as the Queen celebrates her 90th birthday. However, there's a flurry of activity taking place in the neighbouring building too. Northacre is converting 1 Palace Street into a block of 72 luxury apartments, set to complete in December 2017. Overlooking Buckingham Palace Gardens and set in the heart of the Birdcage Walk Conservation Area, the Victorian structure has high ceilings (up to 4.7 metres), plenty of lateral space and excellent security. In its original incarnation as a hotel, it hosted many royal visitors. Now reconfigured as a set of palatial apartments, it's likely that its next occupants will be every bit as distinguished. www.northacre.com; www.numberonepalacestreet.com

TOP SPOT

Brimming with period character and charm, this 4,291sq ft house is located in the heart of Marylebone, with its boutique shops and village atmosphere. Sporting five bedrooms, five bathrooms and four reception rooms, this property would make a substantial family home. The rooms have all been recently refurbished by an interior decorator, and the layout even incorporates a gym and a lift. £6,900,000 from Rescorp. Call 020 3348 8000 or visit www.rescorp.co.uk

Home makers

With a number of high-end residential developments in and around Winchester under its belt, Alfred Homes will be launching a new set of properties in the Home Counties. Projects are scheduled for Weybridge, Virginia Water, Sonning-on-Thames and the Webb estate in Purley. Characterised by traditionally inspired architecture and attractive settings, these new developments from Alfred Homes look set to be as popular as the company's previous ventures.

To find out more, visit www.alfredhomes.co.uk

SUN, SEA AND SAND

Since the 1950s, The Marbella Club in Spain has attracted a glittering crowd, from Audrey Hepburn to Laurence Olivier. Set in the hotel grounds, Villa del Mar was formerly the home of an Andalusian aristocrat and has been recently refurbished to create a one-of-a-kind rental. The six-bedroom villa can sleep up to 12 and comes with a 24-hour butler, chef, steam room and Jacuzzi, and its own infinity pool. Surrounded by private gardens and close to the beach, it's the perfect sun-kissed getaway. For more information, visit www.marbellclub.com or call 00 34 952 822211

